Glycerine from Natural Gas.

(Medicine Hat Times.)
 A plant to manufacture an important product from natural gas is one of the industrial possibilities of this city. Some two years ago a firm of chemists in England requested the local board of trade to send them a couple of cylinders of natural gas for experimental purposes. The board decided to accede to the request, but fearing an explosion, the steamship companies declined to carry the cylinders of gas across the Atlantic. However, through the good offices of C.P.R. officials that difficulty was overcome and the gas was shipped. Secretary McCallan, of the Board of Trade, has been in communication with these chemists. Yesterday he received word from them that they had been successful in making synthetic glycerine from the gas and that they were negotiating with the British government concerning this product. They state also that they have recommended to the British government that one of their factories for making this product be located in Medicine Hat.

The Board of Trade is taking the matter up with the authorities at Ottawa, and the result of the negotiations in England and Canada may be the establishment of a factory here.

University of Toronto students have given $3,420 to the Red Cross. There is a lot of criticism of the press these days from preachers and temperance speakers and such like, and the press needs to be reminded that it is the duty of the press to report the facts of life as they are. The press needs to be reminded that it is the duty of the press to report the facts of life as they are. Concert at Fertile Plains.

Forty-Mile Baise Another Splendid Donation for the Patriotic Fund.

The campaign inaugurated by the Rural Municipality of Forty Mile, in conjunction with the Patriotic Fund, was responsible for another successful concert held last Friday at Fertile Plains. The attendance was a large one, numbering about 100 persons, and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The programme opened with the singing of "God Save the King," after which, and immediately following, came an address by the chairman (T. H. Walker, reeve) in which he gave some interesting and instructive facts connected with the work of the Municipality and the important part it was taking in aiding the Patriotic Fund. Following Mr. Walker's address were the following items:—Vocal solo, Wm. Carlson; reading, Fay Gibson; vocal solo, Leona Smiley; dance, Miss Fortin and Miss Drogund, accompanied by Mr. Carlson on his violin; vocal solo, G. H. Howden; reading, W. S. Henry; dance, Mr. and Mrs. V. S. Henry; violin solo, T. H. Conquergood; vocal solo, Fred Tweedie.

Another interesting item was play entitled "The Lost Child," rather international in its character and quite original.

An address was also given by J. M. Gibbons, entitled "Canada's part in the War."

The proceeds of the evening amounted to the splendid total of $100.00, added to which was a valuable contribution from Conquergood of $100.00, of which was donated by the Needlecraft Club, the balance being the proceeds of a concert held in that district recently.

Obituary.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. John Sugaw, who passed away at the Hotel Myrtle, Bow Island, on Wednesday morning at 7.30, following a severe attack of pleural pneumonia. The deceased attended a sale south of town last week and was taken suddenly ill, apparently having contracted a severe cold. He was brought into town and the assistance of Dr. Peterson immediately secured, but in spite of careful nursing and attendance he failed to rally and after lingering for a few days finally succumbed to the attack.

The deceased was 39 years of age, and was born in Callan, Missouri. He emigrated to Canada from Spokane, Wash., in 1908, and in 1911 suffered a severe loss by the death of his wife. With his children he had been living since that time upon his farm, southwest of 29-11-10, four miles northeast of town, where in that district, as well as in town, he had by his quiet, unassuming manners and genial disposition, made large numbers of friends.

There are now left to mourn the death of their parents, three young children, two girls and one boy, aged 6, 11 and 9 years respectively. These, according to the wishes of the deceased, will be left to the guardianship of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Auld, of Wask., who arrived here on Sunday morning last to assume charge.

The funeral services were held yesterday (Thursday) at the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Chas. Bishop officiating and were a very large number of sympathizers assembled as a mark of tribute to the deceased. After the service, the remains were conveyed to the C.P.R. depot for shipment to Spokane, where they will be laid to rest at the side of his late wife.

School children at Keton, Sask., contributed $100 to the Red Cross Fund.

Literary Society.

The meeting of the Literary Society held last week took the form of a debate between Bow Island and the Haycroft Literary Society.

The subject was "Resolved that the British System of Government is preferable to that of the United States." Mr. C. Lait, Mr. B. L. Jamieson and Rev. C. Bishop took the affirmative and Mr. Stoner, Doc. Garrison and L. Connor took the negative. The judges' decision was awarded to the affirmative.

On Wednesday of this week a return debate took place at the Haycroft school house. The same subject was debated and the same sides participated, but on this occasion Bow Island took the negative and Haycroft the affirmative. The judges' decision was given to the negative.

The large numbers present at both meetings followed the discussions with keen interest.

Next week the meeting of the Bow Island Society will be under the charge of the social department.

Red Cross Do Good Work.

That the ladies of the Bow Island branch of the Red Cross have not been idle is plainly evident by the following list of articles that have been completed and despatched to their destinations.

On December 18th there was shipped the following:—Three suits of underwear, twelve shirts, one pair wristlets, seven pairs socks, four mittens, 55 tri-handkerchiefs, 18 T-handkerchiefs and 60 handkerchiefs.

Shipped March 15th the following:—120 handkerchiefs, 59 tri-handkerchiefs, 25 pairs socks, 11 shirts and 7 T-handkerchiefs.

There was also sent to Calgary in February $150 in cash, and at the end of the month $150 to Lethbridge.

A Good Sale.

W. H. Schmeck's auction sale, which took place on Thursday of last week, attracted one of the largest attendances seen in this district, a result which Mr. Schmeck is good enough to attribute to the advertisement he placed in the Review. The prices realized were most attractive, and the whole sale netted over $5000, a much larger sum than was anticipated. That is to say, the owner gained somewhere about 50 or 60 per cent on his advertising. A fairly good investment.

Some of the prices given at the sale for live stock follow:—Black colt, Jenny, $2.00; bay filly, Flora, $22.00; bay filly, Nell, $27.00; brown gelding, Jim, $27.00; black gelding, 100.00; Stallion, Graybeard Hartley, $25.00; bay colt, Bow, $6.00; roan filly, Queen, $20.00; saddle horse, 9 years, $2.00; black filly, 3 years, Bell, $19.00; gelding, Jerry, 4 years, $15.00; brown mare, Fanny, $15.00; black mare Nettie, $20.00; bay filly, 7 years, Bird, $25.00; bay filly, Bessie, $12.00; bay mare, Kate, $18.00; black mare, 9 years, $20.00; bay filly, Maud, $23.00; bay colt, King, $10.00; dark brown gelding, 8 years, $12.00; white sow, $3.00; white sow, $2.00; six pigs, $1.00.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned wishes to extend her deepest gratitude to the many friends of the late Mr. John Sugaw, for their valuable assistance as well as for the many tokens of sympathy that have been offered the family and relatives of the deceased in their great bereavement.

An Acknowledgment.

A very cordial letter of thanks has been received from F. H. Waddington, campaign secretary of the Canadian Red Cross at Lethbridge, for the donation of $1250 sent by Bow Island. "We are," he states, "very glad indeed that you sent the money to us and not to the provincial branch in Calgary, for the reason that had it gone to Calgary it would have been forwarded from there to Toronto. Sending it to us means that the money will be spent in purchasing material for supplying our own district, and this district includes all the small country places around where there are no branches. Our accounts for material run over $200 per month, so that your splendid donation is more than welcome."

In Memory of St. Julien.

A suggestion has been made that it would be a very fitting and graceful act to in some way remember the anniversary of what took place April 22, 1915.

The proposal is that on April 22, 1916, the Dominion flag should be hoisted halfmast on every government building, public building, cathedral and church of all denominations, throughout the Dominion, from Nova Scotia to British Columbia, and on Sunday, April 23, 1916 (this being Easter Day), the Union Jack should be hoisted full mast throughout the Dominion. This in honor of those brave men who, although dead, their memory will leave for all time.

TOWN AND COUNTRY HELP EACH OTHER

Farms and Industrial Centres a Complementary—Relations of Urban and Rural Populations

(From Winnipeg Country Life)

Man cannot live by bread alone, and a Province cannot live by farms alone, or a nation by the sole industry of agriculture. Country and town are complementary—inter-dependent rather than independent. One is essential to the progress and to the fruition of the other.

The country supplies the town with its bread and muscle, with the physical strength without which material and intellectual advancement is impossible. Most of the leading men in the business and professional life of any urban population are country-bred, and medical experts tell us that no city family can maintain its normal vitality past the second third generation without recourse to the land. Our foremost statesmen, clergymen, physicians, lawyers and educationalists, our most vigorous captains of industry, commercial men and railway builders came from these rural districts which are an ever-living wellspring of vitality and manhood.

Just here the law of compensation appears. If the farm produces for the town or city, the town or city owes to the farm this red blood. Young men and women, whose inclination or ambition renders them averse to the life of the farm, must find their natural field of effort in the neighboring urban centre. If such service is not rendered hand family life and ever-increasing numbers of suitable citizens and their productive activities are lost to the country, the Province or even to the nation. These young people find congenial occupations or vocations in some town or city near home they remain in touch with their own people and enlarge the purchasing capacity of such centre so far as the foodstuffs produced by the neighboring farmers are concerned. This phase of the present argument will become growingly convincing as the agricultural communities of the West take to raising and the cultivation of other foodstuffs than the primary grains.

There are far wider issues around the urban centre concerns vital and vitalizing benefits upon the territory contiguous to it for miles around. The town or city develops the social life of the race and affords opportunity for the activities in which human beings secure better results collectively than individually or in comparative isolation. It is only in urban places that collective education and other institutions of learning and culture spring up, and but for these the farmers' boys and girls could have no education beyond that provided by the local public schools.

As for the congregation of humanity in hundreds and thousands the nation could enjoy no development in music, dancing, sculpture, architecture, or in higher civilization of any kind. The life of the nation and the lives there would have been little advancement in medical science and here would be none of these modern equipped hospitals to which the farmer and his wife and children are obliged to go for relief when stricken by disease or accident. Even religion itself would suffer for want of the inspiring forces which it acquires through the biological colleges and philanthropic associations which are to be found only in our cities. If some of our manufacturers and business men sojourn large portions, many of them give freely of their substance that colleges, universities, and hospitals may minister to the welfare as well as the urban population.

It stands to reason, therefore, that the better the number of towns and cities scattered about the greater the benefit for those who till the soil. Villages do not grow into towns and cities and manufacturing industries cannot live in Canada except under the aid of a fiscal policy which encourages their growth and growth in the country. This is true for the Eastern as well as for the Western Provinces.

The Hardstone Brick Co., Edmonton, Alta., are installing additional machinery so as to give the plant a total capacity of 50,000 bricks. The factory will be operated by electricity. During 1914 the Dominion Steel and Coal Co. had 1,000 men on its pay roll, but this year's requirements will run away in excess of that, as 1,400 men will be employed in the new mine. The wage bill last year was nearly $2,500,000.

The Lehigh Valley Co., Ltd., has been incorporated at $25,000 with permission to increase the capital to $1,000,000. It is now erecting a factory on the site of the old plant. A warehouse is being erected in Junction, Alta., for the National and Central Co.

Presentation Made to Recruits of 175th Regt. at Winnifred.

The Biggest Event Socially Ever Held in the Town.

Winnifred is noted for its social events and many patriotic activities since the terrible war started in Europe, but the event of all was given by the people of the town and country around on Friday evening, March 10th, when the "Boys" from the 175th Battalion were the guests of the people at an entertainment and dance given in the O.P.O. Hall in their honor.

The programme was most suitable for the occasion and was indeed worthy of a larger place than this.

Mr. Alex Smith performed the duties of chairman and all the numbers were well given. Special mention must be made of the singing by the children of Flowering Valley which was splendid. The programme was as follows:

DIGNIFIED AND ATTRACTIVE MOURNING

Black Faces the White Mourning Stock

White of the Neck is a Becoming Relief

Simple Lines in Pleated Tulle

WHILE the practice of wearing mourning is being ignored by many up-to-date people, there are many more who still insist on wearing black as a token of respect for those dead and gone. It is a mournful custom, especially when carried to extremes, as it very often is; but it is not easily discarded, and for this reason the couturiers of fashion devote some time to the designing of black garments, which, while somber, will be becoming and attractive.

There is nothing more disillusioning than rusty black. If you wear black, select good material that will not grow shabby in a short time. Crepe is always selected as a mourning material, and this season it is also fashionable for those out of mourning. The pleated frock pictured is of the stylish Georgette crepe. It is an exceedingly simple model, as all good mourning should be. Extremes of styles should not enter the mourning wardrobe. A slip of soft dull-black taffeta is used as a foundation for this gown, and over it the pleated crepe is arranged in two tiers for the skirt and a baggy blouse and long full sleeves. Hemstitching at the seams and picotting at the edges will make this gown doubly attractive without making it conspicuous.

All-black is very trying to the most beautiful woman. Therefore, even strict mourning allows a bit of white at the throat to relieve the black against the face. Stock collars of soft silks are being tipped with white turnovers for wear without mourning, and these are easily borrowed for the mourning frock. A stock collar of white Georgette crepe with a full-pleated jabot of the same is a more adventuresome bit of neckwear, but it is redeemed by the binding of dull-black taffeta. If beads are used on the frock, they should be dull jet. The mourning veil is always a vexing question. A graceful way of adjusting it is shown for the hat, which is faced with white Georgette crepe. The veil—also of Georgette crepe in black—is laid over the crown in pleats and allowed to fall in loose folds halfway down the back. It is bound with black lusterless satin ribbon. While the widow's bonnet is not so generally worn as it once was, there are some women who cling to its severity. It is a trying style, but you cannot but admit it is wonderfully attractive in the guise pictured. Heavy black crepe is draped over a small buckram foundation, softened at the face with folds of heavy white crepe, which also forms the fetching chin-strap. The buttons at each side are dull jet.
